Short height, 'guyot double', the leaves are taken off and the harvest takes place when not yet ripe. The grapes are harvested manually. They are taken off the stalks and pressed lightly. Cooling down starts as soon as the wine is put in the vat for a cold maceration before the fermentation process begins (9°C to 12°C) for 3 days. Temperature control between 27°C and 30°C and the wine is pumped over twice daily. The wine matures in French oak barrels 100% new during 15 months. The refining process is done with egg whites and the wine is bottled without being filtered. This wine is cultivated on the best parcels of Château Lauduc.
